
stackt

stackt is more than a market.

stackt has taken unused land in the heart of downtown Toronto and transformed it into an experience of curated discovery.

Designed entirely out of shipping containers, stackt is an ever changing and ever evolving cultural marketplace that will feed your curiosity and expand your thinking.

Spread over 100,000 square feet, the stackt experience features a mix of local and international retailers, a brewery, unique service providers, startup incubators, and innovative culinary adventures, anchored by a strong mandate to support local art, music, social enterprise and cultural communities.
